

THE THOMAS M. COOLEY LAW SCHOOL

You're Invited!

At microphone from left to right, Andrew P. Abood of the Abood Law Firm in Lansing, along with Joel Brodsky and Reem Odeh of Brodsky & Odeh in Chicago, speak to media about Drew Peterson's trial at a news conference in Joliet, Ill.

Abood is a graduate of Michigan State University and Cooley Law School. Due to his high academic standing at Cooley, Andrew was selected for membership in the Thomas M. Cooley Law Review. Upon graduation in 1990, Andrew was law clerk to the Honorable Michael F. Cavanaugh of the Michigan State Supreme Court. Andrew has served as an adjunct professor at Cooley Law School teaching Scholarly Writing, is a past president of the Young Lawyer Section of the Ingham Country Bar, and is a member of the Legal Authors Society. Abood, works with his brother, Frederic "Joe" Abood, at the Abood Law Firm in Lansing and practices commercial transaction and litigation, including real estate, corporate and business planning, and criminal law. Andrew represents a wide range of businesses, including very small holding companies as well as companies with gross revenues in excess of one hundred million dollars.

The Thomas M. Cooley Law School Center for Ethics, Service, and Professionalism invites you to attend "Integrity in Our Communities" which is a speaker series celebrating ethics, service, and professionalism.

Jury Trials and The Media

Presented by:
Andrew Abood, Attorney at Law

Mr. Abood will share his experiences leading high-profile cases, the importance of clients' representation in the media and offer advice on the best ways to work with media during jury trials. Abood will discuss some of the high-profile clients he has represented, including Drew Peterson of Will County, Ill., a former police sergeant who was accused of killing his third wife, and Lisa Holland of Williamston, Mich., who was accused along with her husband, Tim Holland, of murdering their 7-year-old adopted son, Ricky Holland, who was at first reported as a missing child.

Thursday, January 14, 2010, 5 p.m.
Lansing Campus
Cooley Center
Room 911

Program is free. Dinner provided.

Don't miss it!